

Client Information Privacy Policies

Like most industries today, the financial services industry is rapidly being shaped by technology, which is changing the way we do business. To be successful in this environment, we must continue to insure that our clients are confident that we will manage their financial affairs expertly and confidentially.

Windham Brannon Financial Group, LLC (WBFG) advises its clients on a broad range of topics from financial planning to banking, investments, mortgages, and insurance. To advise our clients as effectively and conveniently as possible, it is essential that we use technology to manage and maintain certain client information.

We want to assure all of our clients that whenever information is used, it is done with discretion. The safeguarding of client information is an issue we take seriously. To affirm our continuing commitment to the proper use of client information, we have set forth the following Privacy Policies. It is these Privacy Policies that guide us in serving the privacy needs of our clients. These policies are supported by specific procedures designed to protect your privacy.

- 1. Recognition of a Client's Expectation of Privacy: We believe the confidentiality and protection of client information is one of our fundamental responsibilities. While information is critical to providing quality service, we recognize that one of our most important assets is our clients' trust. Thus, the safekeeping of client information is a priority for WBFG.
- 2. Use, Collection, and Retention of Client Information: WBFG limits the use, collection, and retention of client information to what we believe is necessary or useful to conduct our business, provide quality service, and advise on products, services, and other opportunities that may be of interest to our clients. Information collected may include, but is not limited to: name, address, telephone number, tax identification number, date of birth, employment status, annual income and net worth.
- 3. Maintenance of Accurate Information: We recognize that we must maintain accurate client records. Therefore, WBFG has established procedures to maintain the accuracy of client information and to keep such information current and complete. These procedures include responding to requests to correct inaccurate information in a timely manner.
- 4. Limiting Employee Access to Information: Employee access to personally identifiable client information is limited to those with a business reason to know such information. Employees are informed of the importance of maintaining the confidentiality of client information and on these Privacy Policies. Because of the importance of these issues, all WBFG employees are responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of client information.
- 5. Protection of Information via Established Security Procedures: We recognize that a fundamental element of maintaining effective client privacy procedures is to provide reasonable protection against the unauthorized access to client information. Therefore, WBFM has established appropriate security standards and procedures to guard against any unauthorized access to client information. This includes measures to protect your information in the course of its disposal.

- 6. Restrictions on the Disclosure of Client Information: We place strict limits on who receives specific information about client accounts and other personally identifiable data when it is necessary to share client information with unaffiliated companies. WBFM may share information with such companies if they are providing a product or service to our clients. Whenever we do this, we carefully review the company and the necessity of sharing client information.

We share the minimum amount of information necessary for that company to offer its product or service. When legally required or permitted in connection with fraud investigations and litigation, or at the request or with the permission of a client, we also may provide information.

- 7. Maintaining Client Privacy in Business Relationships with Third Parties: If personal, identifiable client information is available to a third party with which we have a business relationship, we will insist that the third party keep such information confidential, consistent with the conduct of our business relationship.
- 8. WBFM Affiliates: WBFM has three affiliate firms (companies that share common ownership) which may share client information in the normal course of providing services you have requested. These firms are Windham Brannon P.C., Windham Brannon Personal Planning Services, P.C., and Windham Brannon Resources, Inc.
- 9. Disclosure of Privacy Policies to Clients: WBFM recognizes and respects the privacy expectations of our clients. We want our clients to understand our commitment to privacy in our use of client information. As a result of our commitment, we have developed these Privacy Policies, which are made readily available to our clients.

These Privacy Policies apply to individuals, and we reserve the right to change any of the policies or procedures described above at any time without prior notice. These Privacy Policies are for general guidance and do not constitute a contract or create legal rights and do not modify or amend any agreements we have with our clients.

Clients who have questions about these Privacy Policies or wish to exclude or place limits on the sharing of their client information with non-affiliated third parties should contact Jim Heard at (404) 898-2000 or e-mail him at jheard@wbfinancial.com.

As always, we thank you for your trust and business.

Under the new rules, we are required to annually provide each client with these amended disclosures, rather than merely making the offer. Item 4 - Advisory Business

General Information

Windham Brannon Financial Group, Inc. was formed in 1999 and changed its name to Windham Brannon Financial Group, LLC in 2011. WBFG provides financial planning, portfolio management, selection of other advisors, employee stock option analysis and general consulting services to its clients. At the outset of each client relationship, WBFG spends time with the client, asking questions, discussing the client's investment experience and financial circumstances, and broadly identifying major goals of the client.

Clients may elect to retain WBFG to prepare a full financial plan. This written report is presented to the client for consideration. In most cases, clients subsequently retain WBFG to manage the investment portfolio on an ongoing basis.

For those financial planning clients making this election, and for other clients who do not need financial planning but retain WBFG for portfolio management services, based on all the information initially gathered, WBFG generally develops with each client:

- a financial outline for the client based on the client's financial circumstances and goals, and the client's risk tolerance level (the "Financial Profile");
- the client's investment objectives and guidelines (the "Investment Plan").

The Financial Profile is a reflection of the client's current financial picture and a look to the future goals of the client. The Investment Plan outlines the types of investments WBFG will make on behalf of the client in order to meet those goals. The Profile and the Plan are discussed regularly with each client, but are not necessarily written documents.

Finally, where WBFG provides only limited financial planning or general consulting services, WBFG will work with the client to prepare an appropriate summary of the specific project(s) to the extent necessary or advisable under the circumstances.

Financial Planning

One of the services offered by WBFG is Financial Planning, described below. This service may be provided as a stand-alone service, or may be coupled with ongoing portfolio management.

Financial Planning may include advice that addresses one or more areas of a client's financial situation, such as estate planning, risk management, budgeting and cash flow controls, retirement planning, education funding, and investment portfolio design and ongoing management. Depending on a client's particular situation, financial planning may include some or all of the following:

- Gathering factual information concerning the client's personal and financial situation;
- Assisting the client in establishing financial goals and objectives;
- Analyzing the client's present situation and anticipated future activities in light of the client's financial goals and objectives;
- Identifying problems foreseen in the accomplishment of these financial goals and objectives and offering alternative solutions to the problems;
- Making recommendations to help achieve retirement plan goals and objectives.
- Designing an investment portfolio to help meet the goals and objectives of the client;
- Providing estate planning;

- Assessing risk and reviewing basic health, life and disability insurance needs; or
- Reviewing goals and objectives and measuring progress toward these goals.

Once Financial Planning advice is given, the client may choose to have WBFG implement the client's financial plan and manage the investment portfolio on an ongoing basis. However, the client is under no obligation to act upon any of the recommendations made by WBFG under a Financial Planning engagement and/or engage the services of any recommended professional.

WBFG does not provide tax, accounting or legal advice. Clients will engage their own accountants and attorneys for such advice and compliance work.

Direct Portfolio Management

As described above, at the beginning of a client relationship, WBFG meets with the client, gathers information, and performs research and analysis as necessary to develop the client's Investment Plan. The Investment Plan will be updated from time to time when requested by the client, or when determined to be necessary or advisable by WBFG based on updates to the client's financial or other circumstances.

To implement the client's Investment Plan, WBFG will manage the client's investment portfolio on a discretionary basis. As a discretionary investment adviser, WBFG will have the authority to supervise and direct the portfolio without prior consultation with the client. WBFG will invest primarily in mutual funds, bonds, ETF's (Exchange Traded Funds) and common stocks (or Separate Account Managers who select these types of investments).

Notwithstanding the foregoing, clients may impose certain written restrictions on WBFG in the management of their investment portfolios, such as prohibiting the inclusion of certain types of investments (e.g., "sin stocks") in an investment portfolio or prohibiting the sale of certain investments held in the account at the commencement of the relationship. Each client should note, however, that restrictions imposed by a client may adversely affect the composition and performance of the client's investment portfolios. Each client should also note that his or her investment portfolio is treated individually by giving consideration to each purchase or sale for the client's account. For these and other reasons, performance of client investment portfolios within the same investment objectives, goals and/or risk tolerance may differ and clients should not expect that the composition or performance of their investment portfolios would necessarily be consistent with similar clients of WBFG.

Separate Account Manager Selection

When appropriate and in accordance with the Investment Plan for a client, WBFG may utilize one or more Separate Account Managers, each a "Manager". Having access to various Managers offers a wide variety of manager styles, and offers clients the opportunity to utilize more than one Manager if necessary to meet the needs and investment objectives of the client. WBFG will usually select the Manager(s) it deems most appropriate for the client. Factors that WBFG considers in recommending/selecting Managers generally includes the client's stated investment objective(s), management style, performance, risk level, reputation, financial strength, reporting, pricing, and research.

The Manager(s) will be granted discretionary trading authority to provide investment supervisory services for the portfolio. WBFG will assist the Client in the process of actually selecting and engaging the manager(s) of their choice. In addition, WBFG will provide the Client with an analysis of each manager under consideration, will orchestrate personal interviews between portfolio managers and Clients (if appropriate), and will assist the Client in the fee negotiation process if possible. However, when the Client selects a Manager, the Manager is approved and engaged by the Client directly, and WBFG has no authority to hire or fire such Managers.

With respect to assets managed by a Manager, WBFG's role will be to monitor the overall financial situation of the client, to monitor the investment approach and performance of the Manager(s), and to assist the client in understanding the investments of the portfolio.

General Consulting

In addition to the foregoing services, WBFG may provide general consulting services to clients. These services are generally provided on a project basis, and may include, without limitation: minimal cash flow planning for certain events such as education expenses or retirement; estate planning analysis; income tax planning analysis; review of a client's insurance portfolio, and employee stock option analysis. Other matters specific to the client as and when requested by the client and agreed to by WBFG will also be addressed. The scope and fees for consulting services will be negotiated with each client at the time of engagement for the applicable project.

WBFG does not provide tax, accounting or legal advice. Clients will engage their own accountants and attorneys for such advice and compliance work.

Principal Owners

Windham Brannon Financial Group, Inc. is the sole principal owner of WBFG. Please see Brochure Supplements, Appendix A, for more information individuals who formulate investment advice and have direct contact with clients, or have discretionary authority over client accounts.

Type and Value of Assets Currently Managed

As of December 31, 2011, WBFG managed $650,597,153 on a discretionary basis, and no assets on a non-discretionary basis.

Item 5 - Fees and Compensation

General Fee Information

Fees paid by the client to WBFG are exclusive of all custodial and transaction costs paid to the client's custodian, brokers or other third party consultants. Fees paid to WBFG are also separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds, ETFs (exchange traded funds) or other investment pools to their shareholders (generally including a management fee and fund expenses, as described in each fund's prospectus or offering materials). The client should review all fees charged by funds, brokers, WBFG and others to fully understand the total amount of fees paid by the client for investment and financial-related services. WBFG receives no fee payments from any third parties, including custodians and mutual funds.

Financial Planning Fees

Fees generally range from $1,500-$4,500 for this service. Fees may be waived at WBFG's discretion for Clients who engage WBFG for its Portfolio Management service, but are not generally waived.

Portfolio Management Fees

The annual fee schedule, based on a percentage of assets under management, is as follows:

First $2,000,000	1.00%
Next $3,000,000	0.75%
Balance above $5,000,000	0.50%

A minimum portfolio value may apply. The minimum annual fee for any account is $10,000. WBFG may, at its discretion, make exceptions to the foregoing or negotiate special fee arrangements where WBFG deems it appropriate under the circumstances.

Portfolio management fees are generally payable quarterly, in advance. If management begins after the start of a quarter, fees will be prorated accordingly. Fees are normally debited directly from client account(s), unless other arrangements are made.

Either WBFG or the client may terminate their Investment Management Agreement at any time, subject to any written notice requirements in the agreement. In the event of termination, any paid but unearned fees will be promptly refunded to the client, and any fees due to WBFG from the client will be invoiced or deducted from the client's account prior to termination.

General Consulting Fees

When WBFG provides general consulting services to clients, these services are generally separate from WBFG's financial planning and portfolio management services. Fees for general consulting are negotiated at the time of the engagement for such services, and are normally based on an hourly or fixed fee basis.

Item 6 - Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

WBFG does not have any performance-based fee arrangements. "Side by Side Management" refers to a situation in which the same firm manages accounts that are billed based on a percentage of assets under management and at the same time manages other accounts for which fees are assessed on a performance fee basis. Because WBFG has no performance-based fee accounts, it has no side-by-side management.

Item 7 - Types of Clients

WBFG serves individuals, pension and profit-sharing plans, corporations, trusts, estates and charitable organizations. WBFG may impose a minimum portfolio value for conventional investment advisory services, and the annual minimum fee charged is $10,000. Under certain circumstances and in its sole discretion, WBFG may negotiate such minimums.

Item 8 - Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

WBFG basis its security selection upon market research and portfolio construction methodologies developed by Eugene Fama (University of Chicago School of Business) and Ken French (Dartmouth) as well as Dimensional Fund Advisors ("DFA") where they both work as advisors to DFA's mutual funds, separate accounts, and research. In addition a client's goals and objectives will influence the portfolio construction process.

WBFG believes that traditional approaches to investment management based upon forecasting returns of securities, asset classes, and Managers does not add to expected investment returns and can increase risks unnecessarily. WBFG uses what is commonly viewed as passive approaches to investment management. Currently, WBFG uses Dimensional Fund Advisors (DFA) institutional mutual funds extensively in clients' portfolios. DFA's investment philosophy is consistent with WBFG's by providing cost effective exposure to global asset classes. WBFG reviews DFA's fund performance and operations periodically to determine their appropriateness for client portfolios.

When WBFG cannot access DFA for client portfolios due to account restrictions, WBFG will use a more traditional approach to screening managers/funds. Managers and funds are categorized according to investment philosophy and approach, and are ranked according to performance and other factors. Screening is also based on Client/Portfolio constraints, and WBFG maintains certain standards for all potential money managers/funds to meet or exceed.

Fixed income investments may be used as a strategic investment, as an instrument to fulfill liquidity or income needs in a portfolio, or to add a component of capital preservation. WBFG may evaluate and select individual bonds or bond funds based on a number of factors including, without limitation, rating, yield and duration.

In selecting individual stocks for an account, WBFG generally applies traditional fundamental analysis including, without limitation, the following factors:

- Financial strength ratios;
- Price-to-earnings ratios;
- Dividend yields; and
- Growth rate-to-price earnings ratios

Investment Strategies

Academic research as well as history has shown that capital markets work. This means that capital markets provide positive returns and process information and attract capital very efficiently. Traditional investment management assumes by its very nature that markets are inefficient, that by laborious research and analysis one can predict the movement of the market, an asset class, or a security. The evidence of active manager performance contradicts this notion.

Higher than risk-free returns require one to assume certain risks, mainly the unpredictable short term returns of investments. The higher the potential return, the less the returns are predictable in the short run. However, given enough time, the predictability of higher returns increase, and the additional risk can be justified.

WBFG believes that certain risks are not justified, because they do not increase the expected return above that of the market. Examples of these types of risks are concentrated stock, concentrated asset classes, market timing, and active security selection. In addition to increasing uncompensated risks, they increase trading costs and taxes for taxable investors which lowers the expected return.

The exposure to certain markets risks explains approximately 90% of the performance of a portfolio. These risks are usually defined in terms of asset classes, such as large capitalization stocks, small cap stocks, bonds, money markets, etc. All the other factors such as market timing and security selection only account for a small part of performance.

Consequently, WBFG focuses on the factors that contribute the most to performance. Also, certain factors have provided “out-performance” historically. Exposure to value and small cap stocks typically have higher risks associated with them and have provided higher returns than the S&P 500 over time.

WBFG’s overall strategic approach is to invest each portfolio in accordance with the Plan that has been developed specifically for each client. This means that the following strategies may be used in varying combinations over time for a given client, depending upon the client’s individual circumstances.

Long Term Purchases – securities purchased with the expectation that the value of those securities will grow over a relatively long period of time, generally greater than one year.

Short Term Purchases – securities purchased with the expectation that they will be sold within a relatively short period of time, generally less than one year, to take advantage of the securities’ short term price fluctuations.

Margin Transactions – a securities transaction in which an investor borrows money to purchase a security, in which case the security serves as collateral on the loan.

Risk of Loss

While WBFG seeks to diversify clients’ investment portfolios across various asset classes consistent with their Investment Plans in an effort to reduce risk of loss, all investment portfolios are subject to risks. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that client investment portfolios will be able to fully meet their investment objectives and goals, or that investments will not lose money.

Below is a description of several of the principal risks that client investment portfolios face.

Management Risks. While WBFG manages client investment portfolios based on WBFG’s experience, research and proprietary methods, the value of client investment portfolios will change daily based on the performance of the underlying securities in which they are invested. Accordingly, client investment portfolios are subject to the risk that WBFG allocates assets to asset classes that are adversely affected by unanticipated market movements, and the risk that WBFG’s specific investment choices could underperform their relevant indexes.

Risks of Investments in Mutual Funds, ETFs and Other Investment Pools. As described above, WBFG will generally invest client portfolios in mutual funds, ETFs and other investment pools (“pooled investment funds”). Investments in pooled investment funds are generally less risky than investing in individual securities because of their diversified portfolios; however, these investments are still subject to risks associated with the markets in which they invest. In addition, pooled investment funds’ success will be related to the skills of their particular managers and their performance in managing their funds. Pooled investment funds are also subject to risks due to regulatory restrictions applicable to registered investment companies under the Investment Company Act of 1940.

Equity Market Risks. WBFG may invest portions of client assets directly into equity investments, primarily stocks, or into pooled investment funds that invest in the stock market. As noted above, while pooled investments have diversified portfolios that may make them less risky than investments in individual securities, funds that invest in stocks and other equity securities are nevertheless subject to the risks of the stock market. These risks include, without limitation, the risks that stock values will decline due to daily fluctuations in the markets, and that stock values will decline over longer periods (e.g., bear markets) due to general market declines in the stock prices for all companies, regardless of any individual security's prospects.

Fixed Income Risks. WBFG may invest portions of client assets directly into fixed income instruments, such as bonds and notes, or may invest in pooled investment funds that invest in bonds and notes. While investing in fixed income instruments, either directly or through pooled investment funds, is generally less volatile than investing in stock (equity) markets, fixed income investments nevertheless are subject to risks. These risks include, without limitation, interest rate risks (risks that changes in interest rates will devalue the investments), credit risks (risks of default by borrowers), or maturity risk (risks that bonds or notes will change value from the time of issuance to maturity).

Foreign Securities Risks. WBFG may invest portions of client assets into pooled investment funds that invest internationally. While foreign investments are important to the diversification of client investment portfolios, they carry risks that may be different from U.S. investments. For example, foreign investments may not be subject to uniform audit, financial reporting or disclosure standards, practices or requirements comparable to those found in the U.S. Foreign investments are also subject to foreign withholding taxes and the risk of adverse changes in investment or exchange control regulations. Finally, foreign investments may involve currency risk, which is the risk that the value of the foreign security will decrease due to changes in the relative value of the U.S. dollar and the security's underlying foreign currency.

Item 9 - Disciplinary Information

WBFG has no disciplinary events to report.

Item 10 - Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Some shareholders in WBFG, Inc, the majority owner of Windham Brannon Financial Group, LLC, are also shareholders of Windham Brannon, P.C., a certified public accounting firm. John F. Edgar, also a Director and shareholder of WBFG, Inc., is a shareholder of Windham Brannon Personal Planning Services, P.C., ("WBPPS"), a certified public accounting firm. WBPPS primarily provides family limited partnership administration services and charitable planning services. WBFG may recommend these two affiliated firms to advisory Clients in need of the types of services that each offers. Such services are separate and distinct from the advisory services of WBFG, and are provided under separate engagement. No WBFG Client is obligated to use the affiliate services. Certain shareholders may spend the majority of his/her time on this activity during certain times of the year.

Item 11 - Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics and Personal Trading

WBFG has adopted a Code of Ethics ("the Code"), the full text of which is available to you upon request. WBFG's Code has several goals. First, the Code is designed to assist WBFG in complying with applicable laws and regulations governing its investment advisory business. Under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, WBFG owes fiduciary duties to its clients. Pursuant to these fiduciary duties, the Code requires WBFG associated persons to act with honesty, good faith and fair dealing in working with clients. In addition, the Code prohibits associated persons from trading or otherwise acting on insider information.

Next, the Code sets forth guidelines for professional standards for WBFG's associated persons (managers, officers and employees). Under the Code's Professional Standards, WBFG expects its associated persons to put the interests of its clients first, ahead of personal interests. In this regard, WBFG associated persons are not to take inappropriate advantage of their positions in relation to WBFG clients.

Third, the Code sets forth policies and procedures to monitor and review the personal trading activities of associated persons. From time to time WBFG's associated persons may invest in the same securities recommended to clients. Under its Code, WBFG has adopted procedures designed to reduce or eliminate conflicts of interest that this could potentially cause. The Code's personal trading policies include procedures for limitations on personal securities transactions of associated persons, reporting and review of such trading and pre-clearance of certain types of personal trading activities. These policies are designed to discourage and prohibit personal trading that would disadvantage clients. The Code also provides for disciplinary action as appropriate for violations.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

Because client accounts are invested most often in open-end mutual funds and ETF's, there is little opportunity for a conflict of interest between personal trades by WBFG associated persons and trades in client accounts, even when such accounts invest in the same securities. However, in the event of other identified potential trading conflicts of interest, WBFG's goal is to place client interests first.

Consistent with the foregoing, WBFG maintains policies regarding participation in initial public offerings (IPOs) and private placements in order to comply with applicable laws and avoid conflicts with client transactions. If a WBFG associated person wishes to participate in an IPO or invest in a private placement, he or she must submit a pre-clearance request and obtain the approval of the Chief Compliance Officer. If associated persons trade with client accounts (e.g., in a bundled or aggregated trade), and the trade is not filled in its entirety, the associated person's shares will be removed from the block, and the balance of shares will be allocated among client accounts in accordance with WBFG's written policy.

Item 12 - Brokerage Practices

Best Execution and Benefits of Brokerage Selection

When given discretion to select the brokerage firm that will execute orders in client accounts, WBFG seeks "best execution" for client trades, which is a combination of a number of factors, including, without limitation, quality of execution, services provided and commission rates. Therefore, WBFG may use or recommend the use of brokers who do not charge the lowest available commission in the recognition of research and securities transaction services, or quality of execution. Research services received with transactions may include proprietary or third party research (or any combination), and may be used in servicing any or all of WBFG's clients. Therefore, research services received may not be used for the account for which the particular transaction was effected.

WBFG may recommend that clients establish brokerage accounts with the Schwab Advisor Services division of Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. (Schwab), a FINRA registered broker-dealer, member SIPC, to maintain custody of clients' assets. WBFG may also effect trades for client accounts at Schwab, or may in some instances, consistent with WBFG's duty of best execution and specific agreement with each client, elect to execute trades elsewhere. Although WBFG may recommend that clients establish accounts at Schwab, it is ultimately the client's decision to custody assets with Schwab. WBFG is independently owned and operated and is not affiliated with Schwab.

Schwab provides WBFG with access to its institutional trading and custody services, which are typically not available to Schwab retail investors. These services generally are available to independent investment advisors on an unsolicited basis, at no charge to them so long as WBFG maintains a pre-established minimum amount of client assets in accounts at Schwab Advisor Services. Schwab's brokerage services include the execution of securities transactions, custody, research, and access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise generally available only to institutional investors or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment.

For WBFG client accounts maintained in its custody, Schwab generally does not charge separately for custody services but is compensated by account holders through commissions and other transaction-related or asset-based fees for securities trades that are executed through Schwab or that settle into Schwab accounts. Schwab Advisor Services also makes available to WBFG other products and services that benefit WBFG but may not directly benefit its clients' accounts. Many of these products and services may be used to service all or some substantial number of WBFG accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab.

Schwab's products and services that assist WBFG in managing and administering clients' accounts include software and other technology that (i) provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements); (ii) facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts; (iii) provide research, pricing and other market data; (iv) facilitate payment of WBFG's fees from its clients' accounts; and (v) assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping and client reporting.

Schwab Advisor Services also offers other services intended to help WBFG manage and further develop its business enterprise. These services may include: (i) compliance, legal and business consulting; (ii) publications and conferences on practice management and business succession; and (iii) access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants and insurance providers. Schwab may make available, arrange and/or pay third-party vendors for the types of services rendered to WBFG. Schwab Advisor Services may discount or waive fees it would otherwise charge for some of these services or pay all or a part of the fees of a third-party providing these services to WBFG. Schwab Advisor Services may also provide other benefits such as educational events or occasional business entertainment of WBFG personnel. In evaluating whether to recommend that clients custody their assets at Schwab, WBFG may take into account the availability of some of the foregoing products and services and other arrangements as part of the total mix of factors it considers and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided by Schwab, which may create a potential conflict of interest.

Directed Brokerage

Clients may direct WBFG to use a particular broker for custodial or transaction services on behalf of the client's portfolio. In directed brokerage arrangements, the client is responsible for negotiating the commission rates and other fees to be paid to the broker. Accordingly, a client who directs brokerage should consider whether such designation may result in certain costs or disadvantages to the client, either because the client may pay higher commissions or obtain less favorable execution, or the designation limits the investment options available to the client.

The arrangement that WBFG has with Schwab is designed to maximize efficiency and to be cost effective. By directing brokerage arrangements, the client acknowledges that these economies of scale and levels of efficiency are generally compromised when alternative brokers are used. While every effort is made to treat clients fairly over time, the fact that a client chooses to use the brokerage and/or custodial services of these alternative service providers may in fact result in a certain degree of delay in executing trades for their account(s) and otherwise adversely affect management of their account(s).

By directing WBFG to use a specific broker or dealer, clients who are subject to ERISA confirm and agree with WBFG that they have the authority to make the direction, that there are no provisions in any client or plan document which are inconsistent with the direction, that the brokerage and other goods and services provided by the broker or dealer through the brokerage transactions are provided solely to and for the benefit of the client's plan, plan participants and their beneficiaries, that the amount paid for the brokerage and other services have been determined by the client and the plan to be reasonable, that any expenses paid by the broker on behalf of the plan are expenses that the plan would otherwise be obligated to pay, and that the specific broker or dealer is not a party in interest of the client or the plan as defined under applicable ERISA regulations.

Aggregated Trade Policy

When practical, WBFG attempts to aggregate trades when such aggregation may result in a better execution and/or a lower commission rate, but WBFG may not aggregate trades for all securities transactions, which could result in higher costs for its Clients.

Item 13 - Review of Accounts

Managed portfolios are reviewed at least quarterly, but may be reviewed more often if requested by the client, upon receipt of information material to the management of the portfolio, or at any time such review is deemed necessary or advisable by WBFG. These factors may include but are not limited to, the following: change in general client circumstances (marriage, divorce, retirement); or economic, political or market conditions. A team of WBFG's wealth advisors and financial planning professionals reviews all accounts.

Account custodians are responsible for providing monthly or quarterly account statements which reflect the positions (and current pricing) in each account as well as transactions in each account, including fees paid from an account. Account custodians also provide prompt confirmation of all trading activity, and year-end tax statements, such as 1099 forms. In addition, WBFG provides at least an annual report for each managed portfolio. This written report normally includes a summary of portfolio holdings and performance results. Additional reports are available at the request of the client.

Item 14 - Client Referrals and Other Compensation

As noted above, WBFG may receive some benefits from Schwab based on the amount of client assets held at Schwab. Please see Brokerage Practices for more information.

From time to time, WBFG may enter into arrangements with third parties ("Solicitors") to identify and refer potential clients to WBFG. Consistent with legal requirements under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended, WBFG enters into written agreements with Solicitors under which, among other things, Solicitors are required to disclose their compensation arrangements to prospective clients before they enter into an agreement with WBFG.

Item 15 - Custody

Schwab is the custodian of nearly all client accounts at WBFG. From time to time, clients may select an alternate broker to hold accounts in custody. In any case, it is the custodian's responsibility to provide clients with confirmations of trading activity, tax forms and at least quarterly account statements. Clients are advised to review this information carefully, and to notify WBFG of any questions or concerns. Clients are also asked to promptly notify WBFG if the custodian fails to provide statements on each account held.

From time to time and in accordance with WBFG's agreement with clients, WBFG will provide additional reports. The account balances reflected on these reports should be compared to the balances shown on the brokerage statements to ensure accuracy. At times there may be small differences due to the timing of dividend reporting and pending trades.

Item 16 - Investment Discretion

As described above under Advisory Business, WBFG manages portfolios on a discretionary basis. This means that after an Investment Plan is developed for the client's investment portfolio, WBFG will execute that plan without specific consent from the client for each transaction. For discretionary accounts, a Limited Power of Attorney ("LPOA") is executed by the client, giving WBFG the authority to carry out various activities in the account, generally including the following: trade execution; the ability to request checks on behalf of the client; and, the withdrawal of advisory fees directly from the account. WBFG then directs investment of the client's portfolio using its discretionary authority. The client may limit the terms of the LPOA to the extent consistent with the client's investment advisory agreement with WBFG and the requirements of the client's custodian. The discretionary relationship is further described in the agreement between WBFG and the client.

Item 17 - Voting Client Securities

With respect to securities selected on behalf of the client in a managed account or recommended to a client, WBFG may vote proxies where required under client agreements. WBFG seeks to vote proxies in the best interest of the client(s) holding the applicable securities. In voting proxies, WBFG considers factors that WBFG believes relate to the client's investment(s) and factors, if any, that are set forth in written instructions from the client.

In general, WBFG believes that voting proxies in accordance with the following guidelines, with respect to such routine items, is in the best interests of our clients. Accordingly, WBFG generally votes for:

- The election of directors (where no corporate governance issues are implicated);
- Proposals that strengthen the shared interests of shareholders and management;
- The selection of independent auditors based on management or director recommendation, unless a conflict of interest is perceived;
- Proposals that WBFG believes may lead to an increase in shareholder value;
- Management recommendations adding or amending indemnification provisions in charter or by-laws; and
- Proposals that maintain or increase the rights of shareholders.

WBFG will generally vote against any proposals that WBFG believes will have a negative impact on shareholder value or rights. If WBFG perceives a conflict of interest, WBFG's policy is to notify affected clients so that they may choose the course of action they deem most appropriate.

As stated earlier, WBFG's goal is to vote proxies in the best interest of the client(s). To that end, WBFG has engaged Broadridge, a Voting Agent Service, to facilitate WBFG's proxy voting service, and has adopted the voting methodology of Glass Lewis, a proxy advisory service, to research and determine rationale for voting each proxy. A copy of our complete policy, as well as records of proxies voted; are available to clients upon request. As required under the Advisers Act, such records are maintained for a period of five (5) years.

Item 18 - Financial Information

WBFG does not require nor solicit prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance, and therefore has no disclosure required for this item.
